INFORMATION LETTER/UPDATE:

GENERAL INFORMATION:

I was busy with training this month and I am currently preparing to teach several more classes.

LE CORNER:

Do not issue a piece of equipment until you have a chance to teach the end user how to properly use it. Team Leader's still need to check out their team members.

INSTRUCTOR NOTES

<http://www.luckygunner.com/labs/brass-vs-steel-cased-ammo/>

Above is a great article on brass vs. steel cased ammo. Very well done.

MONTHLY PERSPECTIVE:

This is one of the best things to come out of Hollywood in recent memory. Finally someone made a positive statement which is not too far off the mark. While I respect the Office of the President, I do not respect the current occupant. He is a consummate liar and has done more to drive a wedge and heighten racial tension in our country than any one American could ever have done.

His only positive accomplishment in both terms will be that he scared Americans into buying more guns and ammunition than any time in history. Americans riding the fence, got off and purchased guns and ammunition because they fear their government. That is as simple as it can be stated.

As the gun control debate fizzles, it is time to press the fight and also to remember who stirred this up during the next election cycle. Vote them out and send a message to the liberals that this will no longer be tolerated.

As much as I hate to punish the good people in Colorado, they need to stand up to liberals that are causing the problems. When Colorado Ranchers decided to sell their properties to real estate developers and lure Californians and their offspring into the state, it came at a price. In short, be careful how you make your money and who you sell to as it may come back to haunt you.

CLASSROOM/ LODGE:

EQUIPMENT:

John C. Tibbetts of KEECHI CREEK ARMS/KIZER GUNS here in Nacogdoches, Texas Cerakoted my G19's tan and my G32's OD green. He did a great job and the finish is holding up well. He can do rifles also and generally has a quick turnaround.

Wilson's Combat Oil

I have been using this heavier oil on my MAK-90 clones and it coats well, sticks and provides a slick surface for load bearing parts.

James Williams/CRKT Lights

Left is the Tactical Applications Light and the light on the right is the Personal Defense Light.

James has come up with two outstanding flashlights. They have several light modes from “candle” to full beam. The head snaps out with a slight click to give full power. On low power, you can stand it on edge and shine at the ceiling for work where you do not want to lose all your night vision or wake up folks that may be sleeping. Both lights operate the same way and one takes AA type batteries and the other takes 123’s. I am impressed.

Shooting Support Bags/Triad Tactical

<http://www.triadtactical.com/home.php>

I purchased a couple of bean bags for my sniper and hunting rifles. They are small, compact and come about $\frac{3}{4}$ full. I am able to put a piece of 550 cord around one and firm it up on both ends for any height adjustment. I can also put a snap link into the end of the 550 and carry it on my ruck, rifle stock or body.
