INFORMATION LETTER/UPDATE:

GENERAL INFORMATION:

2015 Calendar

My 2015 calendar is out and you will notice I have cut back on the Basic/Advanced SWAT classes. I have been doing LE courses for 15 years and will start to do more 2-3 day civilian classes to cut back on the extended range classes. Thanks for all of the LE support all these years as it has been an honor to work with you. From time to time I will be doing a closed class here and there. I am doing several classes in Northern Illinois this year and they will be my last road classes. The LEO's up there have always been a class act and treated me exceptionally well and it is time to return the favor.

The six-day Basic and Advanced SWAT's consume a great deal of my instructor's vacation and comp time and it is easier to get them to help out with short courses. We are also looking at more Guardian Courses (school staff) during the summer months to help keep our schools safe. There are still plenty of Basic and Advanced SWAT classes offered through the Texas Tactical Police Officers Association and I would point you there. Not all venues offer the same quality, so check it out before you sign up. Finally, we will probably run one open Adv/Basic a year to help the local agencies keep their teams up. I still like giving back when I can.

TACTICAL TRAINERS:

I have instructor students that come back to CSAT and ask to help with classes for their own experience and to get the system down. You are more than welcome to do this and generally I can put you up in the guest house. If you are good at it, I will ask you to come back and pay you as well.

TACTICAL CORNER:

Class preparation is as important to attending a class. With the current market saturation of CHL shooting instructors wanting to take your money, you may or may not get the best training for your money unless you research your trainers.

Also, equipment wise, don't "test" a weapon you built in a class. If you do, bring a second so you can walk to your car when the first one breaks, grab it and continue to shoot. Test stuff on your own range before or after a class. I try and bring extra guns for students, but do not test my good will.

Further, buy a weapon for your wife that is simple for her to operate and shoot. The 1911 style pistols are not a good first gun for wives and while you might like them, your spouse will eventually curse you and stop shooting it. Buy them a Glock or something similar that fits their hands and everyone will be happy

If you are a super proud 1911 guy, learn to run it before you come to my class. If I have 10% 1911's on line, they will be 90% of my problems. If you cannot detail strip one, do not bring it. If you shoot a Kimber 1911, bring 3, because two will break. Have seen it happen. I run classes to teaching shooting, not 1911 maintenance and repair. See Larry Vickers for that. This is not meant to bash 1911's, I like them and can shoot them. I also know where they are finicky and have learned how to keep them running.

Finally, we run higher level advanced training classes at CSAT and require students to have the same level of rifle/pistol classes under their belt before they come to advanced classes. If the local bubba trained you and you are not up to speed, I may release you from the class. I had an incident in my last CRAS class where I released a husband and wife for safety and holding the class back, at the end of day one. The certificate heavy instructor who prepared them for my class failed and failed their students.

MONTHLY INSPIRATION

MONTHLY PERSPECTIVE:

ISLAM, ISIS and Hamas

As I have grown older, I grow tired of seeing the pictures of Islamic savages mutilating their victims and parading their heads as trophies.

President Obama described ISIS as JV or Junior Varsity at one time. It seems now that that the only JV in the equation is Obama and his administration. He fails to help or protect our friends and neighbors in the World; but instead he campaigns for more money or takes endless vacations.

The Palestinians are keeping bad company when they allow Hamas to shoot from their areas. In my day, if you kept bad company, you got painted with the same brush. The Palestinians are ignorant and if they choose war, so be it. Israel should push them into the sea.

John Kerry has bungled his way throughout the world and proved his incompetence. It seems the talking heads and many State Department appointees are political appointees with no experience. Most have an over-abundance of arrogance as do most liberals, but little experience and even less common sense.

We need to have the foresight to intervene if we see neighbors, allies and friends about to be hurt or die. We are good at watching bloodletting pass and acting only once we see the carnage on the news. Generally then it is too late. We should be helping the Kurds. Everyone soldier/former soldier I have spoken to have said they are good people with heart.

Our President's most noted achievement will have been to remove our military from Iraq too early; along with helping arm the largest and most savage terrorist threat in our history with the most sophisticated weapons. Our military should have bombed them into broken parts before ISIS got their hands on them. Again, our reactionary government failed us. In the future, only give people we train second rate weapons until they earn the right to use high quality arms. Otherwise we may have to face them again.

Just think, only two more years of incompetence. What could happen now?

As for ISIS, they need to be exterminated quickly and efficiently. They are like a cancer in a healthy body. If you let it spread, it has a better chance of killing you. They are cowardly scum and they need to be dealt death without any remorse.

Liberals can now see why we occupy a large footprint in the world. When you do not, you create a vacuum for all the evil to come back in and create chaos. It is happening in the Middle East, Ukraine and in Ferguson, Missouri. So much for the lead from behind or isolationist approach to world leadership.

Well, the liberals will start their same old crap about how women are oppressed and down trodden in the United States. All we need to do is look around and know that is not the case. The liberal agenda is to bring out non-existent dissatisfaction from voters, catering to their self-serving instincts.

If you want to see people that are really without, look at all the displaced Christians, the women and children that are raped, and the men who are executed. President Obama's lack of leadership is appalling and the world knows it.

As for mainstream Islam, they allow this to happen under their watch and say nothing to condemn it. They are just as guilty as ISIS.

Ferguson, Missouri

Michael Brown, the typical black hood-rat got what deserved when he attacked a police officer who was trying to apprehend him for a strong armed robbery.

Let me sum it up:

- 18 year old extremely large and powerful black man strong-arm robs store
- Same man attacks police officer in his car and fractures his eye socket
- Police officer defends himself and shoots 18 year old black man off him
- 18 year old black man attacks police officer again and is shot until he stops his attack

Ferguson has become a circus complete with clowns and midgets. Now, everyone is caving into the pressure and the “we-be” syndrome of the black race. We be picked on, we be deprived. Race baiters, Al Sharpton and Jessie Jackson (new slave masters) came in to stir the pot. Their job is to keep the black man down and ignorant so they maintain their vote. It reminds me of the various tribes/clans in Mogadishu, Somalia, not the central United States

The media has got it wrong from the start and I almost think they are doing this intentionally to create chaos. They media could have brought out that the black thug robbed a store shortly before he was contacted by the officer. As others have pointed out, you do not have a constitutional right to resist arrest. The shit-bird attacked a police officer and died for it. Screw him, his parents, the black community, Eric Holder and Obama. What about all the black kids that are getting killed every week in Chicago??? Now black thugs are killing white people all over the U.S. for revenge.

In the old days, police would not tolerate night after night of mob attacks. They would go in, bust heads and make arrests until all the agitators did not want to play or were in jail. It is now almost a nightly reality show. Allowing this looting bullshit to go unpunished will cost us.

Now all the political type administrators are crawfishing and running for cover and not wanting to stand up for this police officer who was doing his duty. The Missouri State Police assigned a dumbass black Captain to work the incident and this jack-stick thinks that making gang signs with some hood-rat is a good way to calm things. All it tells me about the Missouri State Police is that affirmative action is alive and well in their agency and that minorities are pushed up to their level of incompetence.

Below is a typical Obama voter with a “Trayvon” T-Shirt doing what he does best, looting. I am not racist, just calling it the way I see it and the way it is. Good Americans need to arm and train to protect themselves from this type of home grown threat. We have to survive two more years of this racist Obama nightmare.....

President Obama has brought down my opinion of the black race since he has taken office. Appointments such as Eric Holder only confirm this. Foreign blacks that I have worked with have a distain for American blacks, seeing them as sniveling, arrogant and lazy.

With two more years of a dysfunctional administration, Ferguson might be more common scenario played out across all of America. It is a liberal tactic, depress the economy, put people on government assistance and then tell them they owe the government and that life is good... We all know the problems with big government.

JOIN THE NRA.....

As for the NRA, they have been strangely quiet on this incident. Americans need to wake up understand the need to arm themselves and train with those weapons as we have two more years of this Federal BS where a certain minority group is allowed to do as they please in this country without any consequences. The government stood by and allowed Ferguson to burn and be looted. It is up to the average American to protect themselves, their families and their communities.
