INFORMATION LETTER/UPDATE:

GENERAL INFORMATION:

We ran our first Urban Defense Course this month and despite the weather, the course ran well. I look forward to the next three. To quote one student, "learning occurred."

Reference deposits for classes, I will require full payment in in the future. I have had too many instances of double and triple accounting for checks covering single and multiple classes, etc. In the future, I will hold your slot when I have payment. Thanks for understanding.

MONTHLY INSPIRATION

MONTHLY PERSPECTIVE:

For the most part, Islam is one step above a cult and hates America. I don't get excited about it, I just understand it and their religion. I have been to that part of the world.

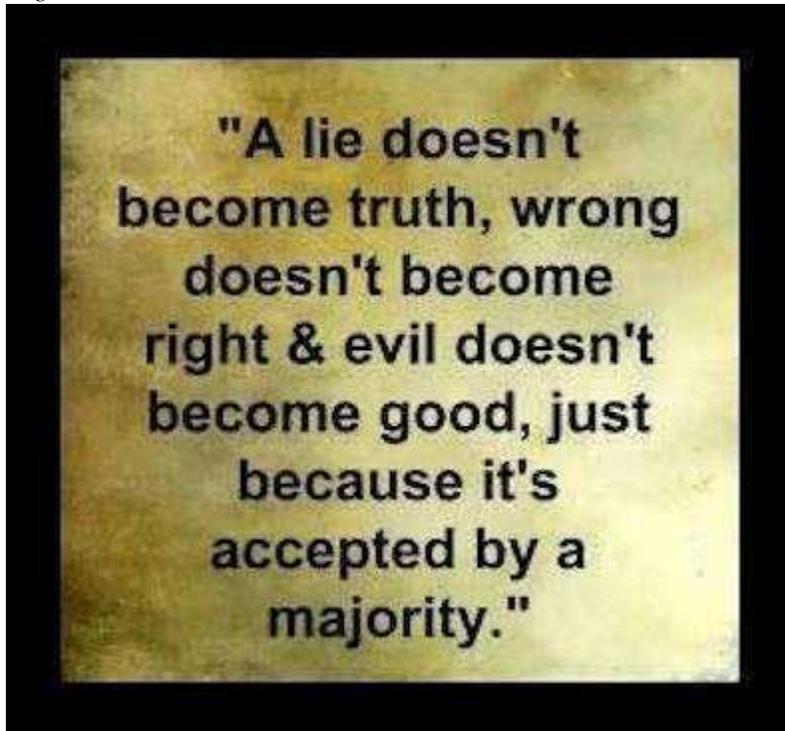

Their respect for life is much below ours. We differ in the way we treat each other, especially family members and spouses. Islam condones violence and violent practices.

Anyone who has been overseas can confirm this. Don't believe the media, but rather talk to soldiers or contractors who have served and worked overseas. It will open your eyes.

As for aid, we should immediately cut foreign Islamic aid $ in half unless they show results. This means that any country that holds Islam as their dominant religion, they lose half. If they are not willing to fight the evil of ISIS, let them be consumed by them.

Further, Obama has attempted to seed our government with Muslims and everyone knows it. This is why we have a checks and balance system in our government. For the next two years president Obama and his minions can try and do harm to our country. American will have to stand up to his/their ignorant, arrogant and evil intentions. We will have to purge them upon his exit, if not before.

Also, the ISIS strategy or lack of is not too bad of one. Think about drawing all the poisons out of your body to one spot and then killing them. That is what we are doing to all the shit-eaters around the world that go to Syria/Iraq to fight. We kill them in a big sand box and not on our own soil.

As a matter of fact, we should pay for their flights and last meals to help them out. Then kill them quickly and efficiently along with their ignorant and savage way of thinking. It makes sense to me. The other option is to fight them on our home turf. It is more sound to do it overseas and not as messy.

Makes you wonder. Also, no picture of President Bush and his wife. Way to go NY Times, you are just another social rag only good for an ass wipe...

Our Youth and their attitudes:

This is from a friend who I receive mostly historical military updates.

Friends:

I had an interesting lunch with an associate of mine and his son. The son is 20 years old, a junior at UCLA and doing the usual drift through life while in college.

During the lunch, I asked the son how school was going for him. I really didn't expect the answer that he gave me. "Oh, it is going all right. My only real competition is a couple of veteran students who really take this shit way too seriously," he said. "Veteran students," I said, "As in military veterans of Iraq and Afghanistan, etc?" "Yeah - the same," he said. "They are super focused and way too intense about this stuff - They're just wound up too tight. I talk to them, but they pretty much stay to themselves. That, and they seem to want to get through the program in record time. You know, graduate a year early or something."

While this rather privileged youngster was babbling on, an image flashed in my mind and I sort of zoned out myself. I know that some of you know about "the stare," or what we used to call the "1000 yard" stare - maybe even some of you have had it. If you have ever seen it or felt it, you never forget it. It comes over men who have done too much, seen too much - so tired or so numb that they just don't care anymore. They just stare off into the distance without a focus. Yep, that was the image that came in my mind.

"Do you know why they all seem to be that way? All the veterans. Why they seem to be so focused and intense?" he asked me as I snapped out of my thoughts.

Without even thinking, I gave him a reply. "It is probably because they've had to write their Wills when they were 19 years old. It is something that you have never done, but they have. And it changes your outlook on life." I said.

"Oh!" was the son's only reply.

It was a short, and very quiet lunch after that. However, it was worth getting the check to see their expressions when I left them still sitting at the table. I guess that there is no nice way to explain that there are those of us no longer see the world the way most others do.

If you are a parent, you have a duty and obligation to educate and bring your kids up in a productive way. Don't be the parent that take the attitude that college will mature them as that institution will not. It is up to you and your significant other.

The Clintons...

If the Clintons are the last best hope for the Democratic Party, then they are close to being sunk. The Clintons epitomize white trash, corrupt, lack of morals, lying and what is down-right evil in America.

It says a great deal about the maturity, intelligence and ignorance of much of the voter base in our country. If America's voter base wants Hillary, they are morally bankrupt, lazy and ignorant. They support professional corruption at its highest level. It says much about the Democratic Party.

Bill Clinton is a pervert in a suit with a protection detail that we are paying for.

As for Hillary, we have sacked generals and reprimanded Ambassadors for security breaches much less than what she did. She kept a private server not for convenience but rather as a layer to keep the truth from the American people. She is a consummate liar.

2nd AMENDMENT

I saw a movie once where only the police and military had guns.
It was called Schindler's List.

MOTIVATION

Sometimes those who don't socialize much aren't actually anti-social,
they just have no tolerance
for DRAMA and FAKE People.

REMEMBER
Everyday You Dont
WORKOUT
THEY DO

ON A LIGHTER NOTE:

HELPED DAD WORK ON HIS CAR

LEARNED 3 NEW CUSS WORDS

People are so ungrateful.

No one ever thanks me
for having the patience not to kill them.

NEW SHOOTERS CORNER

I have had students wonder if they are ready for one of my tactical or advanced classes. If you would like, you can send me a short video clip, 30-60 seconds of you performing:

- Load and press check
- 1 shot from the high ready
- 1 shot from the holster
- Unload sequence

I can assess your skillset based on this video in a few seconds while I watch it. It makes life easier on both of us and gives you the mental confidence and comfort that you're ready for the course.

Finally, in the day this was a good holster. It is past it's service life and cause an accidently discharge as the holster lip folded into the trigger guard, depressing the trigger when the gun was push in it.
