INFORMATION LETTER/UPDATE:

It is time....

After about 18 years in the civilian sector as a travelling trainer and facility owner, I have decided to throttle back. With that, I will be making decisions on what to do with the CSAT Facility. One of my preferences is that it be turned into a regional Law Enforcement Training Center. I will see if the interest is there.

I am fortunate to work as many classes as I choose either on the road or at CSAT. With that, running a facility and being a one-man staff has been challenging. Accounting, invoicing, maintenance and instructor train up has been time consuming. It may look easy from the outside, but it is a seven-day a week job.

I have accomplished everything I set out to do with CSAT and a bit more. I am not quitting, but doing a controlled deceleration of my life. I do want to travel and do more classes, but on a case-by-case basis. I still want to take a few classes from instructors out there. Yes, just shoot and not worry about cutting grass and other chores that have kept me busy for years.

I will be cutting back on these web letters as well. I think we have a president who is mature and on track. America has made a choice and all the sniveling from wussy liberals will not make much traction against good gun-toting Americans.

I look forward to a break, but I still want to do a video library of tactics and techniques that I have learned in 38 years of the business.

Hell, I might even start shooting a 1911 again...

Keep up the good fight.

MONTHLY PERSPECTIVE:

If we wish to leave a better place for our kids, we must first better prepare them to be good human beings and good Americans. America has afforded all of us the opportunity to live life to the fullest and we must ensure our kid are able to sort out what and who is important in life and to make the best of themselves.

Everyone talks about leaving a better planet for our kids.
Let's try to leave better kids for our planet.

We are not given instruction manuals when we are born and through our life, America has evolved to a different place from where we started. Certain core values remain timeless despite the changing technology and impatience of our youth.

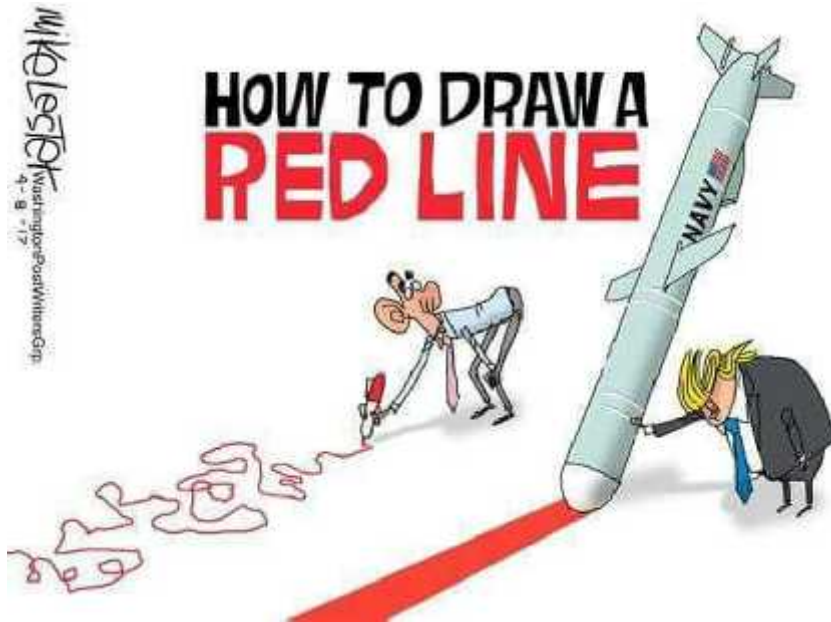

If we abandon our country and values, our country will abandon us and we will cease to exist. I believe in teaching and educating our kids to know what is right and wrong and how to make judgements on life and people. There is too much BS in the world that goes unchecked. Especially with the media and the internet.

Our media is an unguided missile that can poison and corrupt weak minds. This is because media has become a business and not a profession as it once was.

If you think we have a bad way of life, look at the above picture. This tells it all and how good we have it.

If we're removing confederate monuments after the civil war, I think we should also be removing mosques after 9/11.

Liberals and academics are up in arms about our cruise missile attack in Syria. Stepping up and saying that nerve gas use will not be tolerated is one good point. You just never know if we were taking out a stockpile in the attack or not. Or taking out a delivery means. I joke that more money is spent when one federal law enforcement agency changes their pistol bullets out to the latest and greatest new bullet than the cruise missile attack. Maybe it was just time to rotate out old missiles and rather than firing them in training, we put them to use on a known tyrant. It also sends a message.

HOLLYWOOD

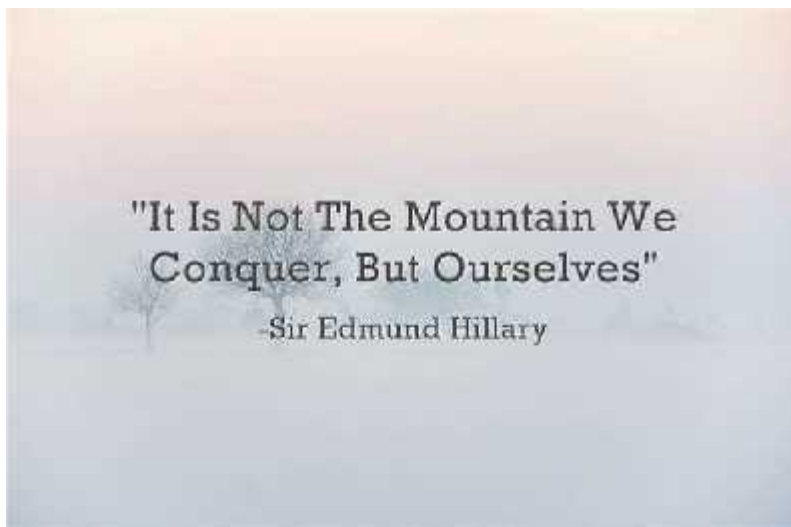

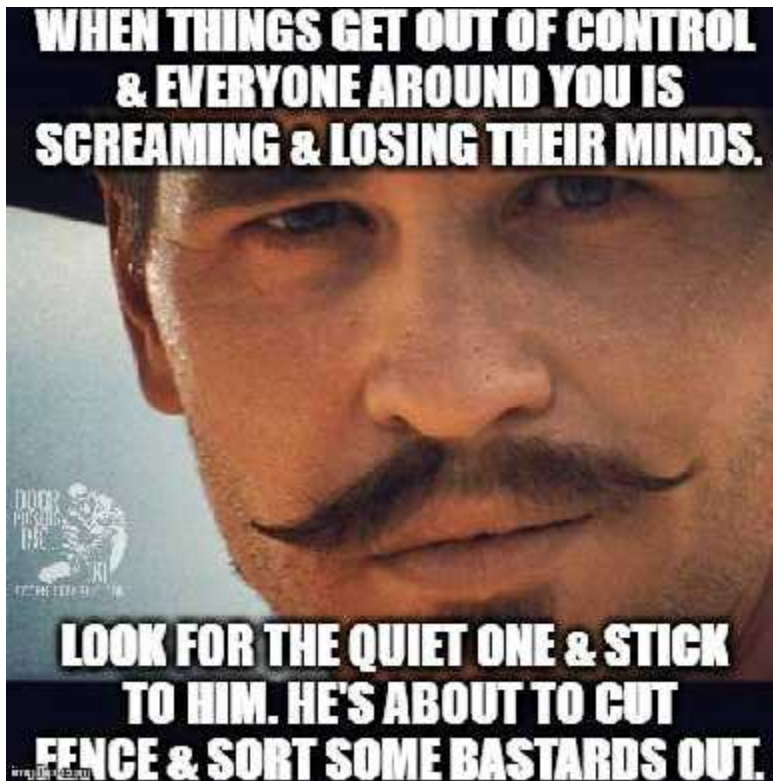

This was one of my generation's funniest movies and will probably be edited one day out of political correctness. It is sad.
